Subject: Really Sorry for Losing Your Book, Dhvanit

Hey Dhvanit,

I hope you're doing good, friend. I actually wanted to talk to you about something, and I feel really bad about it. Remember that book you lent me last week? I lost it, and I'm honestly so sorry.

Here's what happened, I took it with me to the cafe when I went to study, and I must've left it there on the table. I realized it only after I got home, and when I went back the next day to check, it was gone. I even asked the staff if someone turned it in, but no luck. I feel terrible because I know it was one of your favourites.

I've already checked online and at a couple of local stores to see if I can get the same one to replace it. If you could send me the exact title or edition again, I'll make sure to get it for you.

Really sorry once again, bro, it was totally my fault for not being more careful. I promise I'll make it up to you.
